

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVII.

STANFORD, KY. TUESDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1889.

NO. 92

1880-1890.

Summing up the events of 1889, we find it has been a year of flood, fire and storm. In Pennsylvania it will be remembered for a century as the year of the Johnstown flood. In Japan and on the Yellow river in China, however, there were in 1889 floods compared to which that at Johnstown becomes insignificant.

The first great storm was that in March at Samoa, in which the American flag-ship Trenton went down while her band played "The Star Spangled Banner." A little later came the terrific weather on the Atlantic coast, involving immense destruction of property and the loss of many human lives. Yet again in the autumn the Atlantic coast from the Gulf to Halifax was torn by the fury of the elements.

The railroad accidents and minor casualties have been very many in this country, far more than the usual number. It has been observed that events travel in waves to such an extent that a proverb has grown out of it. "All things are in threes" is the saying. There has been in America during 1889 no widespread epidemic of disease to carry people off, but the number of deaths by suicide, accident and violence has been unusually large.

Notable events have occurred in human history to make 1889 worthy of long remembrance. One more relic of semi-civilization, in the shape of a hereditary monarchy, has been blotted out. Brazil is a republic. There is not a king or an emperor left in the western hemisphere. The congress of the three Americas at Washington is a noteworthy event of 1889. For the first time in history all the independent governments of North and South America have assembled. To the capital city of the most powerful of them all they come to knit themselves more closely together in bonds of amity and commerce.

In Europe most worthy of note was the Paris exposition, celebrating by a glorious display of the achievements of peace, the bloody downfall of the Bastille and the divine right of kings. Next to the exposition the most significant occurrence was the great strike of the London dockmen. The success of this strike, among the most ignorant, degraded and downtrodden workmen in Great Britain, marks the setting in of the labor tide which is to sweep all before it.

In our own happy country, 1889 has been a fortunate year. Four splendid new stars have been added to the blue sky of our flag. Four splendid new cruisers have gone to show Europe the beginning of our navy. Not for forty-one years before have we had a fleet in European waters.

Crops have been bountiful in most parts of the Union. Manufactures have been prosperous. It is said that when the iron industry booms everything else booms. Money has poured into our country from foreign lands, because the United States, at peace within and without and busy as a bee developing its mighty resources, is a safe country in which to put money. Not less than $100,000,000 have been invested in the United States by European owners in 1889. Some of it came from Germany, but most of it from Great Britain.

No startling discoveries have been made in the world of science and invention in 1889. Ships have crossed the ocean inside of six days and broken the transatlantic record. The development and widening of the electrical industry has been marvelous. There has been steady improvement in known inventions and machinery, but not much that is new.

With the good start that it will have from 1889, unless all signs fail, 1890 will be one of the most prosperous years in the history of our country, a good year in which to make investments and engage in fresh enterprises. So, if you have had bad luck and feel discouraged, never say die. Survey the field carefully. See where your mistakes were and start in again, full of courage and hope. There is good fortune for every son of man somewhere, and it is his task to find it. It is sure to come to the person who never gives up.

Finally, health and prosperity and true love to everybody for 1890! Long life and prosperity to all the American republics, and greeting the kindest and good wishes to our sister of France beyond seas!

We Can and Do

Guarantee Dr. Acker's Blood Purifier, for it has been fully demonstrated to the people of this country that it is superior to all other preparations for blood diseases. It is a positive cure for syphilis, poisoning, ulcers, eruptions and pimples. It purifies the whole system and thoroughly builds up the constitution. A. R. Penny.

A Duty to Yourself.

It is surprising that people will use a common, ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English cure for the same money. Dr. Acker's English pills are a positive cure for sick headache and all liver troubles. They are small, sweet, easily taken and do not gripe. For sale by A. R. Penny.

A Child Killed.

Another child died by the use of opiates given in the form of soothing syrup. Why mothers give their children such deadly poison is surprising when they can see the child of its peculiar troubles by using Dr. Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no opium or alcohol. Sold by A. R. Penny.

The New Congressman.

Turner, the loeman recently elected to congress from one of the New York districts, has confessed that he does not feel as comfortable in his new seat in congress as he did upon his ice wagon. Thereupon the funny papers have already begun telling him to keep cool.

Amos Cummings has written in The Sun a vivid sketch of the woes of the member in his first term, which doubtless Mr. Cummings draws up from the deep salt well of experience. There are 120 new congressmen this year.

Months will be required before the new member learns the staircases, labyrinths and presages of the huge Capitol building, and even after months he will sometimes need a guide to show him the way. This will be more apt to occur after a luncheon in the senate restaurant with some of his constituents. It will take more than months for him to get the hang of the rules of the house. If he attends to business strictly he will have almost no time for social pleasure.

He will be put on a committee, perhaps two, and he can tell no more than a dead man what committee it will be. If he is a skilled lawyer, perhaps he will be one of the gentlemen appointed to look after our great American navy.

Stick close to your desk and never go to sea. And you'll still be the ruler of the queen's tawnee.

During the first term he will be sunbaked and sat upon from the word go by experienced members. He will not be permitted to make a speech, even though the question is one about which he is the only man in the house who knows anything. A general who commanded the troops that destroyed a certain property during the war was serving his second term. A bill came before the house in which this very matter was involved. The general, who alone knew about it, wished to give some information to the chairman of his committee, and asked to address the house half an hour. His chairman replied in that lordly manner long official residence at Washington gives:

"When we want you to talk we'll let you know."

The new congressman finds himself upon a bed of coals and not of roses, says Mr. Cummings. He will be awfully annoyed by women, for one thing. But if at the end of his first term, balancing accounts, he concludes that on the whole he has had more fun than bother, he goes in for it again.

Most of them do go in for it again, including Mr. Cummings.

The elevated railroads of New York City have carried 5,000,000 more passengers in 1889 than they did in 1888. The travel across Brooklyn bridge is increasing at the rate of several thousand a month. Cars and trains in the city are so crowded morning and evening that it is a breathless scramble to get a seat, or even a strap to hang up by. Two or three facts are very apparent: The tunnel under the Hudson will have to be finished to accommodate the increased rush of travel, another bridge must be built between New York and Brooklyn, farther up the sound, and a genuine rapid transit, one capable of accommodating all the travel, must be had from the Battery to Harlem. The trains of the New York Central now go into the city to Forty-second street under Park avenue. Why should they not extend in the same way to the Battery?

The Vassar girls of 1888-9 have undertaken a work that promises to be a public service. They are collecting statistics of household service among women. In co-operation with the American Economic association they distribute circulars asking for information in regard to the hours of service, wages, kind of employment, etc., of women and girls who do housework. They hope to ascertain the reason why clerkships and factory work are universally preferred to housework, which is healthier and in many ways more desirable. They need not send circulars to ascertain that the low social standing of domestic service is the objection to it.

La grippe, the grip, or influenza, that has been imported from Europe along with the other fashions, is something similar to the epidemic that afflicted horses of this country in 1872-73. It is not contagious, but epidemic, apparently. First the patient feels pain and soreness around his eyes and above his nostrils. His eyes become red and watery, and he weeps copiously and involuntarily. Then it is sneezing till the afflicted individual thinks he is going to sneeze his everlasting head off. But, though troublesome, it is not dangerous, so far as heard from, and subsides in a few days. The disease is called the Russian grip.

Stanley nearly died of the dinners that were given to him when he was in Europe before. Now the dinner tends to not even wait for him to get back to Europe. No sooner does he set foot in Zanzibar than there is another dinner, with speech making, in his honor. No wonder he likes the African negroes. They nearly took his life several times, but they never forced him to go to dinner.

HUSTONVILLE.

—The gentleman who was killed by Mr. Ike Shelby Christmas eve, was buried here Wednesday. He leaves a widow and one child.

—All persons indebted to the firm of Weatherford & Cook, of Hustonville, will please call and settle their accounts before or by the 1st of January.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Huffman, of Liberty, are with their daughter, Mrs. H. R. Canitz. Miss Nannie Reid, of Danville, is visiting Miss Jennie McKimney and Miss Ella Kennedy.

—For Sale.—A general line of groceries, queensware, hardware and notions in the town of Hustonville. Only store of the kind in town. Storehouse for rent. Reason for selling want to engage in other business. J. W. Welch.

—A progressive euchre party and a "rummy jerking" (June Reid says that is the name given a candy pulling down South) was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Canitz in honor of visitors. If you see Beecher Adams loitering around the Court-house waiting for C. B. Cooper, please notify us immediately.

—Quite a lamentable accident occurred yesterday to the eldest son of Mr. J. P. Goode. While out hunting Brother Goode had his thumb almost blown off by the discharge of the gun. It was so badly injured that Dr. Brown found amputation necessary and he performed the operation yesterday. We understood today that Brother did not rest well last eve, but he displayed a great deal of bravery by going through such an ordeal without the use of any opiates at all. We sincerely hope the worst is over.

—One of the most delightful entertainments of the Christmas festivities took place at the paternal residence of Mr. J. K. Baughman on the evening of the 26th. Mrs. Baughman assisted by Miss Minnie and Mattie Dinwiddie received. Mr. and Mrs. Baughman's beautiful home was thrown open to their guests and their hospitality knew no bounds. The young ladies looked pretty as usual and the young men were "real handsome." Among the ladies we noticed were Misses Jones and Rue, of Harrodsburg, Miss Bradley, Miss Jennie McKimney, Miss Nannie Reid, of Boyle, Miss Kennedy, Misses Cook, Misses Belle and Lizzie Bogle, Miss Emma Hunn, Miss Alcorn, Mrs. H. B. Reid and sisters, Miss Lizzie Dye, Miss Mary Dodd, Miss Mary Lusk, Miss Mary Adams, Miss Lufie Goode, Miss Minnie Dye, Miss Louise Hoeker. The gentlemen were Messrs. Grubbs, of Danville, Will Hunn, Ed Williams, Calvin Carpenter, M. E. Allen, Beecher and Charley Adams, Sam Menefee, of Stanford, G. C. Cowan, J. B. Cook, J. P. Harper, Geo. Bradley, Will Dinwiddie, Brewitt, Ed Owens, Jim and June Reid, Jim Rife, Ed Powell, Bartlett Powell, W. S. Huffman, Messrs. Hoeker, Will Weatherford, Matt Sandridge, Hugh Manning and "Sister Ryan" and he wants it understood that he was the handsomest and "plum prettiest" man in the house. The supper was perfect and heartily enjoyed.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—Rev. Steve Holcomb, of Louisville, will commence a ten-days' meeting here Wednesday.

—A. R. Dyche, editor in chief of the Mountain Echo, has blossomed out as a candidate for county judge on the republican ticket.

—A difficulty occurred between Ed Chestnut and Bob Hodge near John Short's distillery the other day in which Chestnut was badly used up.

—W. P. Bentle, representative from Perry, Leslie and Harlan, was here Sunday on his way to Frankfort. J. C. Creech, representative of this and Rockcastle counties, left Saturday for the Capital.

—A negro who says his name is Wm. Johnson, was arrested at East Bernstadt Friday, supposed to be an escaped convict by the name of Smith. He was jailed on the charge of concealed weapons, which will give the parties who arrested him time to ascertain whether he is the right man.

—John T. Hatcher, London's favorite barber, has been trading considerably recently. About two weeks ago he sold his nice residence on Cemetery Hill to W. B. Catching and Saturday he bought Judge Thompson's confectionery and grocery store, has ordered new furniture for his shop and proposes now to do "em up in style."

—Fole French, a prominent attorney of Harlan county, was arrested here Saturday charged with murder committed in Pulaski county, Va., 18 years ago. He has been living at Harlan C. H., about 10 or 12 years and is a brother of Fulk French, of Perry county. He claims that he is innocent and told your correspondent that his arrest was a case of mistaken identity, but the fact will soon be ascertained as he will be held here until parties come from Virginia to identify him.

Is Life Worth Living?

Not if you go through the world a dyspeptic. Dr. Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets are a positive cure for the worst forms of dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulency and constipation. Guaranteed and sold by A. R. Penny.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Every day we hear some farmer say he has lost his meat. If this thing keeps on, we will have to eat our beans next summer without bacon.

—Mr. W. S. Downton has sold his interest in the livery business to N. D. Ingram. Mr. D. will move to Middlesboro soon and engage in business.

—A general cleaning up of the streets is going on and it makes one think of the time of spring cleaning. Such lovely weather; flowers are blooming and things put on the appearance of early spring-time.

—The examining trial of Isaac Shelby, Jr., for killing Green Linkefeldt at Junction City on the night of the 24th was called Saturday, but was postponed till to-day, Monday. No new developments in the case.

—C. E. Bolton will deliver a lecture on the night of the 7th of January, in the Opera House. Subject, "Lands of the Midnight Sun." This is the second in seven lectures which will be given during the winter.

—Dr. Webb, of Bryantsville, gave a party Thursday night. Several of our young people attended and reported having a good time. The doctor gives a party about once every six months and those who attend say they are always royally entertained.

—As we are about to enter upon a new year, let us make new resolutions. If we have done anything in the past year for which we are ashamed and which we regret, let's resolve never to do so again. We too often make promises and resolutions and break them. Every one if they try can improve by past experience and can thus start in better prepared for the duties which we owe to God and man.

—The semi-centennial celebration of the Anaconda Club came off Friday night at the D. and D. Institute. About 40 visitors were present, some from a distance. A sumptuous supper was set for the guests and toasts were indulged in by a number of the members and visitors. Everything went off nicely and all report a grand time. Dr. Beatty, of this place, is the only living person who was a member when the society was organized.

—Mr. George E. Murphy, after procuring license at your town to wed Miss Lizzie Hutchison, came over here and were married in the parlors of the Gilcher Hotel. Rev. J. W. Lynch officiated. Mr. Murphy is a conductor on the L. & N. railroad, Miss Hutchison a Rowland beauty. They were accompanied by Messrs. Lynn Hutchison and W. E. Lee, Misses Murphy and Belle Hutchison. They remained only a few minutes after they were married. Quite a number of Danville people witnessed the marriage.

—The widow of Gen. George H. Thomas died suddenly at Washington.

—R. U. Turner, a prominent stock dealer, committed suicide at Russellville.

—Chattanooga is boasting of strawberries fresh from the vines and of peach trees in full bloom.

—Jealousy caused John McDonald to shoot his wife and then himself at Bowling Green. Both will die.

—Revs. Evans and Hopper's meeting in Greenup county resulted in 64 additions to the Presbyterian and 4 to the Methodist churches.

—At a church in Marion county, Vest Huffman cursed the preacher, when he reprimanded him for misbehavior. He was arrested and taken before a magistrate, when he attempted to escape. The constable pursued him and was fired on, whereupon the officer shot and fatally wounded him.

—The Columbia Railway and Navigation Company, incorporated at Richmond, Va., with a projected capital of $100,000,000, proposes the construction of roads through the countries of South America, which are to connect with points in the United States by steamship lines.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could only live a short time. She weighed less than 70 pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle and it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued her life and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 120 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, drugist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful discovery free at A. R. Penny's Drugstore.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For County Judge, THOMAS W. VARNON;
County Attorney, JOSEPH H. PAXTON;
County Clerk, GEORGE B. COOPER;
Sheriff, J. N. MENEFEE;
Jailer, SAMUEL M. OWENS;
Assessor, E. D. KENNEDY;
Sup't of Common Schools, W. F. McCLARY;
Surveyor, HARRY A. EVANS;
Coroner, ARCH CARSON.

The contest for the Speakership of the House was settled in short order. Harvey Myers, of Covington winning the caucus nomination on the first ballot with 43 votes and getting more than Cox, of Bowling Green, and Evan Settle, of Owen, combined, the former receiving 28 and the latter 12. Gus Richardson, the Meade county statesman, saw the hand writing on the wall and withdrew before the vote was taken. Mr. Myers has had considerable experience in legislative bodies and will doubtless make a good presiding officer. Our representative voted for him, which is a pretty good sign that he is a good man. The other nominations were made with dispatch and are as follows: Green R. Keller, of the Carlisle Mercury, Clerk of the House; James E. Stone for Assistant Clerk; Robert Tyler for Sergeant-at-Arms and Smith C. Cook for Door-keeper. Harry Glenn was nominated for Clerk of the Senate; William Cronwell for Assistant Clerk; G. W. Castle for Sergeant-at-Arms and J. B. Reed for Doorkeeper. The nominees were all elected yesterday on the meeting of the legislature and duly sworn in.

HARVEY MYERS, the new Speaker, is a son of the late Harvey Myers, a distinguished Covington lawyer, who was killed by Col. Terrell a number of years ago. He was 14 years old at the time and desiring to shift for himself, he obtained the position of copy-holder for a proof-reader on a Cincinnati paper at $4 a week. He was afterwards the Covington reporter for the Enquirer and studied law during his spare moments. He is therefore a self-made man and deserves the greater credit for making his mark in life.

The lazy custom of not issuing Christmas cards country papers have indulged in from time immemorial is fast becoming obsolete. More papers than ever before came out during the holidays, thereby demonstrating that their owners are abandoning the old foggy ideas of running newspapers. The Interior Journal was never given to the "time honored custom" for in 15 years that we have conducted it we do not remember to have missed but one issue on account of Christmas or anything else.

During the indiscriminate use of fireworks at Shelbyville Christmas night, a Roman candle was fired through a window of the Shelby News office and falling into a lot of paper, set it afire, damaging that office to the extent of $1,000 and injuring several other establishments. Fortunately Messrs. Cozine & Vance are fully insured or they might force the town to reimburse them for permitting property to be endangered by the use of fireworks.

ISSING on the first and last days of 1889, the INTERIOR JOURNAL has given its readers 105 numbers this year, one more than usual. We throw this in for good measure along with the dozen or more double issues and scores of supplements issued during the year. With our thanks to the public for increased patronage and a prayer for the lost soul of the miserable delinquent, we wish our friends a happy New Year, with peace and prosperity during 1890.

A TERRIBLE accident occurred two miles west of White Sulphur Springs Saturday morning, on the C. & O., caused by the spreading of the rails. Six cars of a vestibule train were demolished, killing 11 people and injuring 25 more. The only Kentuckian killed was a newsboy named Thompson, of Paris.

Eight men charged with murder were taken from the jail at Barnwell, S. C. and shot to death by a mob. There was perhaps no excuse for the outrage, except that the prisoners were negroes and the cowardly mob wanted to gratify a thirst for blood with no danger of losing any themselves.

DOM PEDRO seems to be hoeing a pretty tough row of stumps of late. He had hardly gotten back to the old country after being kicked off the Brazilian throne before his wife died suddenly of heart disease. The cable says he is totally overcome; little is the wonder.

THE influenza or "LaGrippe" as it is called, which has swept over the old world, has reached this country and is rapidly spreading. Over 100 deaths occurred from it in Paris and many elsewhere, so it will be seen that the disease is a very serious one.

THE Covington Commonwealth, which is one of our most highly prized exchanges, celebrated Christmas by donning a new suit from head to foot. The new type is a decided improvement. The contents can not be improved upon.

THE Richmond Climax hopes that the constitutional convention will eliminate the word "commonwealth" in connection with the courts and substitute the more widely one of "State." The suggestion is a timely and good one, but Col. Hull, the tender-hearted Courier-Journal scribe, thinks it would be a sin to take away the spell-binders' main stay—"The grand Old Commonwealth," which he launches so grandiloquently upon an eager audience.

—James Edwards, a boy of 11, and Bee Mullins, aged 17, broke into the store of the Livingston Lumber Co., a few nights since and carried away shoes, pocket knives, jewelry, silk handkerchiefs, candy, etc. They were detected two days afterwards with the goods and were brought here. Edwards was released on account of his youthfulness. Mullins was jailed to await the grand jury.

—There is but one expression of opinion heard here on the murder for murder of Conductor Cahler and that is the murderer deserves execution without trial if it was known positively who the bloody handed fiend is. By strictly observing the rules and regulations of the company Mr. Cahler sometimes offended persons who always afterward would say he was correct in discharging his duties as he did and were his staunch friends thereafter.

—ATTENTION CHAIRMEN.—The chairmen of the democratic district committees are requested to call a meeting in their various precincts to take place on the 2d Saturday in January, 1890, at 1 p. m., for the purpose of electing district committees, sub committees and a general reorganization. 1st district, Mat Pike chairman, Mt. A good attendance is desired. S. H. MARTIN, Chmn.

JAS. MARET, Secy. Dem. Co. Com. —A. M. Petty, an exile from Polo, Argentine Confederation, S. A., stepped over at this place Saturday on his way to Middlesboro. He went to South America with a large number of confederates at the close of the war and has remained there until two months ago, when an edict was issued exiling a number of unaturalized foreigners on account of serious complications some of them had brought on between the confederation and the Empire of Brazil. Mr. Petty is a fluent talker and told many interesting things concerning the Southern land. Coffey he says can be bought there for $2.50 to $3 per bag that costs $17 here at wholesale. Kentucky whiskey 65 cts per gallon. Stealing is almost unknown. But few of the houses have locks. This honesty is caused by the laws inflicting the death penalty on thieves.

CRISP CONDENSATIONS.

It is proposed to light up horses' heads with electric light during fogs in London.

There are 400,000 persons in England in occupations directly connected with the sea.

Skulls of Roman soldiers, the teeth being perfect, have been discovered in the chalk at Folkstone, Norfolk, England.

The discovery on a Fiji plantation of an antidote to the banana disease, will, it is expected, prove most valuable in all tropical countries.

The electric light has found a curious use in Russia—orthodox Russia, of all countries—viz., for illuminating saintly images in cathedrals.

Foreign engineers report that at the present rate of sinking the northern coast of France will, in a few centuries, be completely submerged.

Copies of rare books and editions are now manufactured in Germany and France by means of a chemical process. The facsimiles are good, but their durability is uncertain.

In London there are about 1,400 shops and factories for the supply and sale of music and musical instruments, while in the provinces there are nearly 6,500 professors of music and music traders.

The 3,000 new blocks erected in Rome, and the eighty-two miles of splendid new streets, have so changed the capital of Italy that it is scarcely to be recognized by those who visited it twenty years ago.

The oldest locomotive engineer in New England, if not in the United States, is Thomas W. Capron, who has been in the active and continuous service of the New York, Providence and Boston road since 1853.

In autumn huge baskets of snails for sale may be seen in the Lisbon fruit market. In Madrid and other wealthy Spanish cities as many as fifteen different kinds may sometimes be counted on the slabs of the dealers.

Lady Dufferin, in her notes on India, says: "The Burmese women are great personages and play a great part in their households. They choose their own husbands and divorce them when they like, retaining their own property and all that they have earned. They are at liberty to marry again, whether as widows or divorcees."

The redecoration of the famous corridor in Windsor castle has been completed at a cost of many thousands of pounds. The work has been constantly in progress all the year except when the queen has been at the castle. One set of rose china, in a single one of the cabinets in this corridor, is valued at $30,000 ($150,000). At the upper end of the corridor is a bust of Gordon, close to which is his pocket Bible inclosed in crystals.

There is one circumstance connected with the Crown verdict that is significant. Burke, O'Sullivan and Coughlin received their sentence of life imprisonment with signs of satisfaction. It shows, at any rate, their own judgment of their case.

1889. "A Happy New Year" to One and All. 1890.

To our Grand Army of Patrons and friends, THE PUBLIC:

We herewith extend our heartfelt thanks for their very liberal patronage during the past year and we also express our sincere acknowledgements of the many compliments and the hearty support showered upon us since the opening of our new store.

This public good will encourage us to greater efforts for the coming year, and we assure all we shall endeavor to merit the same liberal patronage in the new year as of the old, aiming always to give the public the greatest possible value in

PERSONAL POINTS.

J. P. Benton is spending a few days in Lexington.

J. W. Laskey is acting as jailer in the absence of Mr. Owens.

Mr. T. Metcalf and wife have been visiting his parents in Nicholasville.

Edmund Hubbard spent the holidays with his father, Prof. J. M. Hubbard.

C. C. Carsook and E. C. Walton spent a day or two in Lexington and Nicholasville.

Mr. J. S. May and wife, of Somerset, are the guests of Mr. Fielding Thurmond.

Mr. H. D. Keller, of Harrodsburg, has been visiting his brother, of the office.

Gen. R. M. Vance raised $75,000 in Winchester for the new bank in Dallas, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. James Milburn have returned from a visit to his mother at Danville.

Mr. A. R. Penny went to Knoxville Saturday night to see his daughter, Mrs. R. B. Mahony.

Miss W. W. Johnson, of Tennessee, and her children, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Peter Straub.

George Bonos, of Harrodsburg, qualified as guardian of Edwin, son of the late See Owens, yesterday.

Mr. P. A. Pitman will go to Somerset to auction goods for Powers & Co. He can't be beat in his line.

Miss Jennie Harlan, of Sedalia, Mo., who has been visiting Miss Lillian Buchanan, left for Danville yesterday.

Mr. John H. Chubb started on the road yesterday for Wm. Baker & Brown and Browning, King & Co., to travel for several months.

Wallace E. Varnon resigned as clerk of the Committee on Foreign Affairs and returned home, preferring this to getting turned down.

Miss Belle Carpenter has rented Mrs. Cath Bailey's house on Lancaster street and will keep a select and first-class boarding house.

The Courier-Journal has an account of an entertainment given by Mrs. Morin at her residence on 3d avenue in which Misses Nettie and Georgia Wray are mentioned among the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Owsley will leave for Hintonville today to make their home there. We regret very much to have them leave, but trust our West End friends will treat them kindly and return them to us occasionally.

Miss Louise Bailey returned from Frankfort Saturday, but will leave in a few days for Olney, Mo., where she has accepted the position of music teacher in the Institute there. She is an accomplished musician, having inherited as well as cultivated the talent.

Mr. R. C. Bradley and wife, of Harrodsburg, have been on a visit to G. N. Bradley and family. Mr. Bradley is one of the largest building contractors in this section. He has built 20 depots on the Louisville Southern and still has several to build besides a number of residences in Harrodsburg and elsewhere.

Mr. T. A. Rice, who has by gentlemanly conduct and clever manners, made friends of all our people during his stay here as train dispatcher, will, we regret to learn, leave for another point in a few days. Mr. J. F. Swaine, who was dispatcher on the Monon, has arrived to take his trick and with his wife and child have taken rooms at the Myers House.

CITY AND VICINITY.

New Stock Hamilton steel plows at Higgins & McKinney's.

This is the season for good resolves. Make 'em and keep 'em.

The annual election of officers for Lincoln Lodge No. 60, F. & A. M., resulted as follows: G. D. Hopper, W. M.; T. J. Hatcher, S. W.; J. H. McPherson, J. W.; A. R. Penny, T.; A. C. Sine, Sec., and A. T. Nunnally, S. & T.

Our friends will be glad to know that Bro. Barnes will resume his entertaining correspondence for this paper. A long letter dated the 17th and mailed the 25th did not reach us till yesterday, too late to appear herewith, but will be given next issue.

Among our Christmas gifts was a fine turkey from a lovely and stylish young lady, a basket of nice apples from J. H. Swope and a handsome cane made of hickory wood from Col. D. M. Hocker, of Paris, Texas. The streets of that city he says, are paved with the same kind of wood.

SEE S. L. Powers & Co.'s display of Christmas goods.

W. L. Dawson caught 45 nice fish in the Hanging Fork Christmas day and 30 last Saturday.

J. B. Paxton has sold his stock and farming utensils to Adam Pence, who has rented the farm, for $1,800.

The wife of Mr. James C. Elmore presented him with a girl yesterday and was in a very critical condition when last heard from.

MARK HARRIS has taken charge at the old stand of T. R. Walton and will tell our readers how he is going to sell goods in our next issue.

MISS ANSIE E. MOORE, widow of Jas. A. Moore, has been appointed postmaster at Kingsville in place of James Roy, and S. H. Coppage at Shelby City, vice J. A. Ferrell.

A very large house greeted the McGibeny family and greatly enjoyed the novel musical entertainment. They are remarkably talented and exceedingly clever, and fully merit the liberal patronage that is bestowed on them every where they appear.

The Liberty Press says that the two-year-old daughter of Mr. John Williams fell into a barrel of boiling water prepared for scalding hogs and was literally boiled to death. Wm. Sparrow was instantly killed by a limb falling on him while cutting timber.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of Dec. 24th reached this office on the 28th, considerably disfigured, but still recognizable. Where it has been all this time is a mystery to all save the new mail clerks, whose politeness and not their qualifications, secured them the positions they do not fill to the credit of the party in power.

Some of our citizens are luxuriating on young onions, radishes and lettuce raised in their gardens, while others have yards beautifully adorned with blooming japonica, crocuses and other plants. Such a thing was hardly ever known in this latitude before. It was pretty chilly yesterday and a further fall in the temperature was predicted by the signal service, so there is a prospect for these two previous buds and blossoms to get seriously nipped. A blizzard, the first of the season, is prevailing in the Northwest.

"Only a Farmer's Daughter" was presented at Walton's Opera House Saturday night by Miss Adelaide Cherie and Charles Mortimer, supported by an unusually strong company. In addition to an attractive stage appearance, Miss Cherie is a charming actress and gave the dual characters of Lizzie Stark and Miss Laurel with decided effect. Mr. Mortimer gave a capital rendition of the "convict accomplice" and demonstrated that he is a very talented young man. Miss Beatrice Ingrame is as pretty as she is accomplished and that is saying a good deal. Miss Lillian Graham, E. Gordon Meade and William Macmurray are each deserving of special mention, while little Jessie Lloyd was equal to any child of her age we ever saw on the stage. The parts were elegantly costumed, the whole entertainment was creditable to a high degree and greatly enjoyed by the nice audience present.

MENTIONED.—Conductor Henry A. Cahler was shot and killed at Old Deposit, Thursday evening about dark by a heavy set tramp, whom he had put off the train for failure to pay his fare. He used no violence but accompanied the men to the platform, there were two of them, when one drew a pistol and fired, the ball taking effect in the abdomen of the conductor and passing through the intestines came out at his back. The scoundrel then took to his heels and though he was followed by the trainmen both he and his companion escaped. Capt. Cahler was taken to his home in Louisville, where he died in 24 hours. The railroad company has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the murderer and scores of detectives are scouring the country for him. A number of men have been arrested at various points, suspected of the crime, but it is not likely he is in custody yet. Starting on the road as news boys, Capt. Cahler worked himself through all the lower positions to conductor. He was one of the most conscientious men on the road in the discharge of his duty and was highly thought of by the company. His strict conformity to the letter of the rules made him unpopular with a certain class, and his methods were somewhat abrupt, but he had no trouble with people who want to do right and who believed that it is as much sin to touch and steal from a railroad as an individual. He is the second conductor on the L. & N. to be murdered in the discharge of his duty in the last few months and it was the second time that he himself had been shot by men who were stealing a ride. A member of the Methodist church, Capt. Cahler is said to have done much work for the cause of religion and to have devoted much of his means to the support of gospel missions in Louisville. He leaves a wife and six children, who were entirely dependent on him, and whom he loved with unusual affection. They had prepared a surprise for him on his return from the trip, but instead of his coming to enjoy it as they had planned, he was brought home to die. We do not believe in mob law, but we would urge no objection to Judge Lynch presiding in this murder case, as soon as the perpetrator is properly identified.

A NEGRO named Alex Cooper was fined yesterday for engaging in the pastime of beating his wife.

W. A. TRIMBLE tells us that the Springfield Fire and Marine Co. paid Ed Land $300 of the $400 insurance he held. He saved some of the things insured.

CRIM SETTON, the negro who married Tom Harper's wife, over whom Harper killed West Harford and was given 21 years in the penitentiary, got in a jealous rage Saturday night and vented it by breaking up every piece of furniture the woman had, including a sewing machine, a clock and two bedsteads. She swore out a warrant for the fellow, but he has kept out of Marshal Newland's sight so far.

The drawing for the $200 organ at the Louisville Store took place Friday in the presence of a committee selected by Manager Salinger, composed of Judge T. W. Varnon, Mayor E. H. Burnside, Judge W. R. Carson, J. P. Bailey, J. B. Paxton, T. D. Newland, A. A. Warren and a reporter. The latter did the drawing, after the mayor had shaken up the box containing nearly 9,000 tickets, when the number 1,778 was brought forth and declared the winner. The holder has not yet shown up.

MAD DOGS.—As Judge T. E. Shelton stepped from his hotel at an early hour Saturday morning he was attacked by a dog which seized him by the foot and tore a hole in his shoe. Fortunately there was no abrasion of the skin, but prints of the teeth showed on the flesh. The same dog had also torn the breeches off a negro man the same morning. An effort was made to kill him, but he got away. Ben Dunn lost an Optimus volt which he had refused $150 for, and a large hog from hydrophobia and it is said that many other people and things will suffer. Watch out for mad dogs and kill every one suspected.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Mr. James A. Todd and Miss Lila Hunt were married at Mr. A. E. Moberly's last week.

—County Clerk G. B. Cooper issued 122 marriage licenses this year to whites and 32 to colored couples, making 154 against 162 in 1888.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—David Owens received a ball from a Roman candle in his right eye, which has caused him much pain and may probably destroy the sight.

—Mrs. Wm. Simpson died of consumption at her home near Buckeye, Saturday morning, aged about 30 years. She leaves a family of 7 small children.

—The Lancaster Mill & Elevator Co. have had the millstone to lose about 10,000 bushels of wheat, which upon examination proved to be musty and unfit for making flour.

—Morris Davis, formerly of the firm of Davis & Joseph, has been spending Christmas week with Lake Joseph. Jas. A. Anderson came in on Monday morning's train from Louisville.

—The McGibeny gave a splendid musical performance Friday evening to a full house, which from the good order during the entertainment, evidenced a high appreciation of the talent of this wonderful family.

—Unknown parties broke into the grocery store of N. A. Thompson last Saturday night. The entrance was effected by breaking a large glass in the front door. Mr. Thompson can form no idea of how much was taken from the room, though he misses some goods.

—To the credit and praise of the Lancaster people be it said, they almost entirely refrained from Christmas festivities during the last hours of our beloved citizen, John H. Woodcock, and until his body had been removed to its last resting in Somerset cemetery, no sound of fire-works could be heard upon the streets.

—Miss Alta Markshury entertained on Wednesday evening, Miss Lottie Brown on Thursday eve, McGibeny performance on Friday evening, Miss Pattie Beazley entertained Saturday evening, Mrs. E. Kinnaird will entertain on Monday evening. It was our intention to write up these entertainments separately and particularly, but the sickness, death and attending the funeral of our devoted friend, relaxed all interest in outside affairs.

—Col. John K. Faulkner is back from Washington. Col. D. R. Collier and son, William, are spending Christmas week at home. A. F. Anderson is at home during the holidays with his mother and sisters. Thurman can always be expected on Christmas and election day. Misses Georgia and Tammie Moore, the two interesting belles of lower Garrard, are spending Christmas week with Miss Maria Curry. Lon Brown, of Covington, is with John Farra during the holidays. Esquire Kinnaird is confined to his room with something like influenza. James Hamilton has rented and fitted up the rooms of Mrs. Moody Hardin, where he with his interesting little wife will spend the coming year.

—There were 86 additions to the First Presbyterian church, 70 to the Christian, 40 to the Baptist, 10 to the Assembly Presbyterian and 4 to the Episcopal church during the past year.—Harrodsburg Sayings.

—Deputy Johnson, with Jailer Johnson and posse, captured John Cook Turner, near Middleboro. He is charged with seriously shooting Deputy Sheriff Carr, who attempted to quell a disturbance.

"Le Boy from Brum" is what The Revue des Deux Mondes calls Mr. Joseph Chamberlain.

Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, is 40 years old. He was born near Denbigh, Wales.

The new lord mayor of London has a baritone voice, is an excellent musician and sings a capital song.

Senator Quay's only recreation lies in novel reading. He is very fond of Fielding, Dickens, Bulwer and Thackeray.

Edgar Allan Poe, captain of the Princeton football team, bears a striking resemblance to the poet whose name he bears.

Mr. Justice Miller, of the supreme court of the United States, is a man of the simplest tastes and most unostentatious habits.

Inventor Keely looks old. He has changed a great deal in appearance during the last five years, and his hair has turned white.

Martin F. Tupper, in his later years, bore so great a resemblance to Longfellow, it is stated, that he was more than once mistaken for the American poet.

Charles Colby, the new president of the Canadian privy council, was born in the United States. He is the first native of the United States to enter a Dominion cabinet.

The Hon. Allain Eustis, vice consul of Brazil at New Orleans, received the decoration of the Order of the Rose from Emperor Dom Pedro, just before the overthrow of the monarchy.

Thomas J. Powers, the new naval officer at Philadelphia, is said to look so much like Thomas B. Reed that he was repeatedly mistaken for the Maine congressman in Washington recently.

Secretary Blaine attributes his good health to the fact that he has given up his habit of eating meat three times a day. He eats eggs for breakfast, cracked wheat for lunch and roast meat for dinner. Since he adopted this regimen his health has been greatly improved.

Sir Julian Pauncefote is fond of the theatre, and his European method of surveying an audience through an opera glass has startled the Washingtonians. At the end of each act he walks to the front of his box and looks carefully over the house to see what friends he has in the auditorium. When he first did this the audience thought he was going to make a speech, but his habit is now so well known that it attracts little attention.

THEATRICAL CHAT.

The death of George Stone, the comedian, is a loss to the London stage. He was the possessor of genuine humor, was a good singer, and an actor of considerable versatility.

The Oxford University Dramatic society will produce Marlowe's "Jew of Malta," with Henry Irving, Jr., in the chief character, but there are doubts as to whether the permission of the authorities can be obtained.

M. Mounet Sully, the tragedian of the Francus, has been nominated knight of the Legion of Honor. He is the first French actor decorated awfully as an actor, for the few previous decorations have been given ostensibly to professors at the Conservatoire.

A very painful scene was witnessed recently at the performance of a play called "The Hypochondriac" at the Deutsches Volkstheater, Vienna. The actor who played the title part went mad in the first act, and after various futile efforts had been made to conceal his true condition from the audience, the curtain was lowered and the play abruptly ended.

A new rural drama by Armand d'Artois and Henri Puyat, called "La Ferme," has been well received at the Ambigu, in Paris. One of the most effective scenes is that wherein a father, having attempted to poison his son's betrothed, betrays his guilt to his son upon the accidental entrance of a gendarme, in whom he sees an officer of justice. The incident is played in silence, and is said to be very impressive.

TABLE PHILOSOPHY.

Existence is simple, but life is a science. An unruly stomach is not to be tamed with lectures.

Hospitality, like charity, hideth a multitude of sins.

Grief and worryment are arrant thieves of the appetite.

Don't growl at this world until you are sure of a better one.

Between physic and the frying pan the grave never lacks a tenant.

Live well today and spare your sorrow to him that waits until to-morrow.

If life's staid draughts be sometimes bitter, 'twere wise to sweeten them with a few of its frivolities.

Because man came into the world barefoot is no reason he should walk over its thorns unshod.

The busy man may have no time to spare for living, but it is tolerably certain he will have some to spare for dying.

A good conscience, a good table, a good digestion, and a good wife—what better than this in thy store, O heaven?

—Joseph Whitton in Table Talk.

MORSELS OF GASTRONOMY.

The flavor of fish is spoiled by ice. Americans are not great eaters of mustard.

The latest omelet is served in crescent form.

The "possum" is the Thanksgiving bird of Georgia.

Scotch toast is sometimes called "Highland slices."

Broiled cepes should be served with Spanish sauce.

The Paris exposition has brought forth several new sauces.

A Keffier pear from Florida weighs one pound and thirteen ounces.

ART NOTES.

A new association of artists has been founded in Paris. It is called the Society of Miniaturists and Illuminators.

The "Angelus" has entered the port of New York in bond for six months for exhibition purposes, the bonds given being for $65,000.

The artistic wealth of the Paris municipality in paintings, sculpture, engravings, etc., is estimated at $2,500,000, outside of the great treasures owned by the nation.

In the excavation for sewage works in Rome a marble group has been found representing a nymph struggling with a satyr. It is one-half life size. The head of the nymph is lost, but the satyr is nearly intact.

The Verestagh pictures will probably remain in America permanently. They were entered in bond, free of duty, and the time allowed by the bond having expired, duty has been paid on the entire collection.

An amateur of Llege has discovered a sketch made by Louis David for his picture of "Brutus." The drawing is signed by David, is dated 1787 (the picture was done two years later), and the famous composition is fully indicated.

Sidney Cooper, the doyen of the Royal academicians, recently attained the age of 86. The old animal painter is slightly deaf, but is otherwise in full possession of his faculties, and his three pictures in last year's academy showed no falling off in his artistic powers.

The late Friedrich Kaiser, the historical and battle painter, was born in Baden in 1815. He went to Paris to study lithography, but fell in with Horace Vernet, who persuaded him to study painting. The wars of 1861, 1866 and 1870 furnished him with subjects for a great many pictures.

Objects discovered in and near Rome by excavators will henceforth be placed in the Baths of Diocletian, there to form a Museum of Urban Antiquities, while those found in Etruria, Latium and elsewhere will be placed at the Villa Giulia, on the Flaminian Way beyond the Porto del Popolo, named from the famous art patron, Pope Julius III.

JOSH BILLINGS' PHILOSOPHY.

Toil sweats at the brow, but idleness sweats all over.

Dispair iz the ashes of hope, which the wind of tribulation scatters.

Pride lives on itself. It is like a racoon in winter—keeps fatt by sucking its claws.

We should awl aim at perfectshun, but no one but a phool will expect tew reach it.

All happiness iz like gold quartz—there iz four quarts of stone to one ounce of gold.

Hope and Debt are partners in trade.—Hope hunts up the customers, and Debt skins them.

He who spends all his substance in charity will undoubtedly get his reward here and hereafter; but his reward here will be the poorhouse.

There iz a huge number of souls perambulating around the world who hav bin straining for years after camel, and finally had to swallow a nut.

Give a smart child a pack of kards and a spellin book, and he will learn tew play a good game of Hi Lo Juk long before he can spell a word of two syllables.

A man haz got about done going down hill when he gets whar he brags on hiz lazyness. Such a knitter iz ov no more use tew himself nor others than a frozen-tew-death rooster in a barn yard.—New York Weekly.

THE GENTLER SEX.

Mrs. Edison has fine brown eyes and a straight face, with a delicately aquiline nose.

Mary Garfield Stanley-Brown is the way the dead president's daughter now writes her name.

Miss Blanche W. Hildebrand is a candidate for the office of assistant post-mistress of the next Iowa legislature.

Miss Rhoda Broughton, after an illness of some years, has written a new novel, which is to wear the curious title of "Atlas."

Adelaide Detelon, the young American actress, has been presented with a gold medal set with diamonds by the faculty and students of Glasgow university.

When Robert Ingersoll's daughter was married she stood in an alcove between the library and the drawing room, under a twenty inch horseshoe made of silver and steel.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward looks askance on the woman's right movement, and has a sister married to Professor Huxley. She shuns publicity, writes a singularly masculine mind and is a complete enigma to her own family, who are still trying to find out what all the fuss is about.

MEN OF LETTERS.

William Harpole Lecky, the historian, has bright red hair, is 51 years of age and dresses like a parson.

Wilkie Collins' drama, "The Frozen Deep," was instrumental in giving Dickens his idea of "The Tale of Two Cities."

Julius Verne's real family name is Olchewitz. The novelist is now 69 years old and engaged in the production of one of his greatest works.

F. Marion Crawford, the novelist, who is to become a resident of Washington, is a very handsome man, in perfect health, and is known all over Europe as an accomplished swordsman.

The late Dr. Edwin Hatch, of Oxford, 54 years of age, was one of the most familiar figures of the great English university. He was editor of The University Gazette, and held the post of secretary to the board of faculties and of studies.

A METRICAL MEDLEY.

Winter is coming.
I know that Winter's coming fast.
The shortening day, the early night,
The zephyr chased by colder blast.
The woods adorned with colors bright,
The empty bird's nest in the tree,
The need of fires in the house,
Are signs of Winter sure to me.

Another sign that never fails,
And one a wise man always notes,
Is that which now your nose assaults—
The smell of camphor on overcoats.
—Lawrence, American.

Rest.
Before the forests spread, somberly glooming,
But touched with sunset light;
Behind, the mountain's umbrage gradually loom-
ing
Uplines, hatched on height.

The far of water pliedly lies draughting
Beneath its fall of cold;
And mighty cliffs and meadows seem to
"Printed with melody."

Downward-seated, cadences the pine-tree nodding.
And all their murmurs low:
Dimly floating on cool winds, as if
"The laughter of the life."

Red burns the summit by the brook's gleam-
ing
The purple of the rock
And the high in forest, as in Flames on the golden red.

Pines—pines and rest, in shades and in showers.
Sweet sounds the pine's melody
And drowsily on mountain and in meadow
"The echo of the life."

Beaten as evening's drowsy meditation
Unto the sunset play;
Softly beginning and ending, as if
"Upon the edge of pain."

This healing balm, and passion's dream, and
ing
Tired brain and weary heart,
And life's weariness and sadness leaving
Seems lapsing into rest.

Father, we thank thee, God for labor ended,
But blessed with food and sleep,
Grant us at last thy rest and service ended
In perfect peace.
—Rev. C. C. Perry, in Advance.

The Modern Photograph.

The progress of the art is rapid.
That people are taking
More and more of them.
That in houses, parlors, and
The modern is everywhere.
I am steadily convinced,
And I think a photograph
Has been recently taken.

Now, we have some strange conceptions
As to ways of doing it,
And the strangest of them
Even to those who take it.
Things have turned so topsy-turvy,
And are changing so fast,
That old times lose their bearings
And can hardly be traced.

There are many funny fancies
Some are fit to make one laugh—
But the oddest is the fashion
Of the latest photograph.
Formerly they took your picture
Front face, eyes upon a crack,
Nowadays the proper custom
Is to photograph your back.

—Frank H. Welch, in Time.

The Beauty's Beauty.

The glory of a beauty's beauty,
Which wins at sight our hearty praises,
Is seen within it, not upon it.
It needs not daffodils nor daisies.

'Tis not the velvet, silk nor satin,
Poised gracefully upon her head,
'Tis not the trimming "bliss or that in,"
Nor blended blossoms white and red.

That rich, attractive, bonnet shining,
"A thing of beauty" in the street
Or church, is valued for its beauty,
A face that's radiant and sweet.

The admiration of a lover,
Unkindled by the richest hair,
Or splendid plumes that wave above her,
Is lit by her fair, winsome face.

The heart beats quicker in the bosom
Of one whose cheeks are red, now white,
Who's thinking of the orange blossom,
A form of grace and eyes of light.

He thinks of a bright arch of roses
Where pensive lovers soon will stand;
And when the evening comes
No happier pair will grace the land.

The glory of a beauty's beauty,
Which wins at sight our hearty praises,
Is seen within it, not upon it.
It needs not daffodils nor daisies.

—George W. Hargis, in The Nation Magazine.
